Finalized Salaries of Elected County Constitutional Officers and Elected School District Officials for Fiscal Year 2009

Pursuant to the Salary Formula in Chapter 145, Florida Statutes

Brief Overview

The practice of determining the compensation of county constitutional officers by state law was sanctioned by the Constitution of 1885 and has been maintained since the 1968 constitutional revision.¹ However, it was not until 1973 that the Legislature authorized the salary compensation formula that was the precursor to its present form.² Prior to that legislation, the authorization of compensation changes for county officers required frequent legislative action. A historical summary of the relevant constitutional provisions and general law amendments can be found in this report's appendix.

In expressing its intent, the Legislature determined that a uniform salary law was needed to replace the previous local law method of paying elected county officials, which was haphazard, preferential, inequitable, and probably unconstitutional. In addition, the Legislature intended to provide for uniform compensation of county officers having substantially equal duties and responsibilities and basing these uniform salary schedules on countywide population.³ Furthermore, Florida's Attorney General has recently opined that a sheriff may not voluntarily reduce his or her salary below that established by Chapter 145, Florida Statutes.⁴

The salary provisions apply to all designated officers in all counties of the state, except those officials whose salaries are not subject to being set by the Legislature due to the provisions of a county home rule charter, as well as those officials of counties that have a chartered consolidated form of government as provided in Ch. 67-1320, L.O.F. (i.e., Duval County).⁵ The adoption of a charter provides the county's electors with a mechanism to fundamentally alter the form of county government and the status of constitutional officers.⁶

5. Section 145.012, F.S. (2008).

6. According to the Florida Association of Counties' website (www.fl-counties.com/aboutflco/chartercounties.shtml), Florida currently has 19 charter counties. The counties and their respective year of charter adoption are as follows: Alachua (1987), Brevard (1994), Broward (1975), Charlotte (1986), Clay (1991), Columbia (2002), Duval (1968), Hillsborough (1983), Lee (1996), Leon (2002), Miami-Dade (1957), Orange (1987), Osceola (1992), Palm Beach (1985), Pinellas (1980), Polk (1998), Sarasota (1971), Seminole (1989), and Volusia (1971).

The current salary formula methodology specifies that the latest official population estimates for each county serve as a major component of the salary computation. In addition to the population estimates, the salary formula contains five other components. The base salary and group rate components for the separate officers are specified in various sections of the Florida Statutes.⁷ The initial factor component is currently set in law as a constant numerical value.⁸ The Florida Department of Management Services (DMS) annually certifies the remaining two components, the annual factor and cumulative annual factor, used in the salary formula computations.⁹ Generally, this annual certification has occurred by the month of September.

Prior to 1984, the Florida Department of Community Affairs computed finalized salaries for county constitutional officers; however, that authority was deleted from law during the 1984 Legislative Session.¹⁰ Beginning in 1985, the Advisory Council on Intergovernmental Relations, the predecessor to the Legislative Committee on Intergovernmental Relations (LCIR), agreed to annually compute the salaries of county constitutional officers as a service to governmental units. Since the LCIR is not required by law to perform the salary computations, county government and school district officials are encouraged to independently verify the finalized salaries of their respective elected officials.

Definition of Terms Relevant to the Current Statutory Formula

Population means the latest annual determination of population of local governments produced by the Executive Office of the Governor in accordance with s. 186.901, F.S.¹¹ For the years in between the decennial censuses, the Bureau of Economic and Business Research (BEBR) at the University of Florida generates population estimates, in accordance with a contract administered by the Florida Legislature.

Salary means the total annual compensation, payable under the schedules set forth in Ch. 145, F.S., to be paid to an officer as personal income.¹²

Annual Factor means 1 plus the lesser of either: 1) the average percentage increase in the salaries of state career service employees for the current fiscal year as determined by the DMS or as provided in the General Appropriations Act; or 2) 7 percent.¹³

Cumulative Annual Factor means the product of all annual factors certified under this act prior to the fiscal year for which salaries are being calculated.¹⁴

Initial Factor means a factor of 1.292, which is the product, rounded to the nearest thousandth, of an earlier cost-of-living increase factor authorized by Ch. 73-173, L.O.F., and intended by the Legislature to be preserved in adjustments to salaries made prior to the enactment of Ch. 76-80, L.O.F., multiplied by the annual increase factor authorized by Ch. 79-327, L.O.F.¹⁵

Salary Computation Methodology

STEP 1 of the salary computation involves the determination of the relevant population group number for the elected officer, based on the estimate of countywide population. Table 1 lists the official 2007 county population estimates used to compute the fiscal year 2009 salaries.

Two sets of countywide population ranges are used to determine the salaries of the elected officers. One set applies to the clerk of circuit court, county comptroller (if applicable), tax collector, property appraiser, supervisor of elections, sheriff, and school superintendent. The second set applies only to county commissioners and school board members. Each population range has an assigned population group number.

STEP 2 of the salary computation involves the determination of the relevant base salary and group rate that corresponds to the population group number determined in the first step. Table 2 displays the applicable sets of population ranges corresponding to each population group number, base salaries, and group rates for each category of elected officer.

STEP 3 involves computing the salaries for each county's elected officers using the formula outlined below.

$$\text{Initial Factor} \times \text{Certified Annual Factor} \times \text{Certified Cumulative Annual Factor}$$

Finalized Salaries

Table 3 displays the finalized salaries for the county constitutional officers pursuant to the statutory formula. The salaries are computed on the basis of two assumptions: 1) all of the constitutional officers in each county are elected; and 2) all elected constitutional officers in each county receive a salary pursuant to the statutory formula. Salary computations are made for school superintendents in every district even though the statutory salary formula provisions only apply to elected superintendents. Finally, these salary figures do not include any additional salary supplements (discussed in a subsequent section of this report) that may be awarded to eligible officers.

Role of the LCIR

Subsequent to the certification of the annual factor and cumulative annual factor by the DMS, finalized salaries are computed. Generally, these finalized salaries are available prior to the start of the local government fiscal year. The LCIR is under no statutory obligation to perform these calculations but has done so as a service to interested parties. Consequently, county government and school district officials are encouraged to independently compute the finalized salaries of their own elected constitutional officers in order to verify the salary figures published in this report. Additionally, the LCIR does not compile salary figures for those officers whose salaries are not set by the statutory formula, nor does it maintain a listing of those officers currently eligible to receive salary supplements and the dollar amounts of those supplemental awards.

Effective Date of Salary Changes

Current law requires that county officers' salaries be adjusted each fiscal year, but fails to specify whether the state or local government fiscal year shall be applied.¹⁶ Florida's county governments operate on the October 1st to September 30th local fiscal year, while Florida's school districts operate on the July 1st to June 30th state fiscal year. In an attempt to clarify this uncertainty, Florida's Attorney General has opined that salary increases are effective October 1st for the elected county officers and July 1st for the elected school district officials.¹⁷

16. Section 145.19(2), F.S. (2008).

17. Florida Attorney General Opinion 79-87 (1979).

Additional Salary for Elected School Superintendents

Each elected school superintendent shall receive as salary the amount determined by statutory formula. However, a district school board may approve, by majority vote, a salary in excess of the amount determined by formula.¹⁸

Salary Supplements

Select county constitutional officers are eligible to receive a special qualification salary of up to $2,000 added to their formula-based salary; however, the officer must first successfully complete the required certification program. Any officer becoming certified during a calendar year shall receive in that year a pro rata share of the special qualification salary based on the remaining period of the year. Any special qualification salary is added after the calculation of the finalized salary.¹⁹

Certification programs are offered to the clerks of circuit court, sheriffs, supervisors of elections, property appraisers, tax collectors, and elected school superintendents, and the officer is required to complete a course of continuing education to remain certified.²⁰ The following state agencies prescribe the courses of continuing education: the Supreme Court for clerks of circuit court; the Department of Law Enforcement for sheriffs; the Department of State's Division of Elections for supervisors of elections; the Department of Revenue for property appraisers and tax collectors; and the Department of Education for elected school superintendents.

In addition to the special qualification salary certification, the Department of Education also provides a leadership development and performance compensation program for elected school superintendents, comparable to chief executive officer development programs in the private sector.²¹ The program consists of two phases: a content, knowledge, and skills phase; and a competency acquisition phase. Upon successful completion of both phases and demonstrated successful performance, the school superintendent shall be issued a Chief Executive Officer Leadership Development Certificate and shall be given an annual performance salary incentive of not less than $3,000 nor more than $7,500 based upon his or her performance evaluation.

Payment of Group Insurance Premiums or Charges

The payment of premiums or charges for group insurance for those county officers whose compensation is fixed by Ch. 145, F.S., is authorized.²² All or any portion of the payment of the

Florida Attorney General Opinions

Florida's Attorney General has issued a number of opinions relevant to the salary issue. The full texts of those opinions are available via the searchable online database of legal opinions.²⁴ The LCIR staff performed a search of the database and identified the following opinions:

Local government officials seeking more clarification should review the opinions in their entirety. The statutory language pertaining to the salary issue has been amended since its authorization. The reader should keep the date of the opinion in mind when reviewing its relevance to current law or any interpretations that have been articulated in Florida case law.

Salaries of Elected State Officials and Full-Time Members of Commissions

The salary formula provisions for county constitutional officers are not applicable to elected state officials and full-time members of commissions. However, their annual salaries are set elsewhere in law.

23. Section 145.131(3), F.S. (2008).

24. <http://myfloridalegal.com/opinions>

The annual salaries of members of the Florida Senate and House of Representatives are set as a fixed dollar amount, but current law includes a provision for annual adjustment on July 1st based on the average percentage increase in the salaries of state career service employees for the fiscal year just concluded.²⁵ However, notwithstanding this provision, the Legislature authorized a 5 percent salary reduction for its members.²⁶ For the 2008-09 fiscal year, the salaries for the Senate President and Speaker of the House are $42,072 each; the salaries for all other Senate and House members are $30,336 each.²⁷

The salaries of other elected state officials and full-time members of commissions are set annually in the state’s appropriations bill. Listed below are the salaries of those elected officials and commission members, effective July 1, 2008, which are unchanged from the prior year.²⁸

 An "e" denotes those school districts having an elected school superintendent, according to the Florida Association of District School Superintendents (FADSS) [www.fadss.org/contactinfo.htm].

Notes:

- 1) Finalized salary figures have been calculated by the Florida Legislative Committee on Intergovernmental Relations (LCIR) pursuant to the statutory formula in Chapter 145, Florida Statutes. Although not required by law, the LCIR has annually computed salaries of elected county constitutional officers and elected school district officials since 1985 as a service to county governments and school districts. County government and school district officials are encouraged to independently compute and verify these finalized salary figures.
- 2) These finalized salary figures may not be applicable to those elected county officers of a chartered consolidated government or those elected officers in counties having a home rule charter where the charter specifies another method of salary compensation. Florida currently has 19 charter counties as follows: Alachua, Brevard, Broward, Charlotte, Clay, Columbia, Duval, Hillsborough, Lee, Leon, Miami-Dade, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Polk, Sarasota, Seminole, and Volusia.
- 3) These finalized salary figures reflect the use of official 2007 countywide population estimates published in 2008 by the University of Florida's Bureau of Economic and Business Research.
- 4) Finalized salary figures are included for each school district's superintendent even though the salaries determined by statutory formula are not applicable to appointed school superintendents. Florida currently has 24 appointed school superintendents in the following districts: Alachua, Brevard, Broward, Charlotte, Collier, Duval, Flagler, Hernando, Hillsborough, Indian River, Lee, Manatee, Miami-Dade, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Polk, Saint Johns, Saint Lucie, Sarasota, Seminole, and Volusia.
- 5) These finalized salary figures do not include the $2,000 special qualification salary available to eligible clerks of circuit court, property appraisers, sheriffs, supervisors of elections, and tax collectors who have completed the required certification program outlined in the relevant sections of Chapter 145, Florida Statutes. Additionally, the finalized salary figures for elected school superintendent do not include either the $2,000 special qualification salary or the annual performance salary incentive of not less than $3,000 nor more than $7,500 available to eligible elected school superintendents who have completed the required certification programs outlined in Section 1001.47, Florida Statutes.
- 6) Pursuant to law, the Department of Management Services must annually certify two components of the salary formula calculation: the annual factor and the cumulative annual factor. For the 2008-09 fiscal year, the certified annual factor is 1.0011 and the certified cumulative annual factor is 3.1646.

Compensation was set in law for members of the board of county commissioners, members of the board of public instruction, clerk of circuit court, county judge, sheriff, superintendent of public instruction, supervisor of registration, tax assessor, and tax collector. The Legislature acknowledged that the functions, powers, duties, and responsibilities vary between county officers in the same county and between the same county officer in different counties with respect to the county's population, geography, economy, and government. Consequently, the amount of compensation set in law for each type of county officer varied from county to county, except for Dade County where compensation was determined locally based on home rule powers. The intent of the legislation was not to repeal, affect, or modify any local or special law, or general law of local application enacted prior to or during 1961 as to the compensation of county officers, travel expenses of county officers, or payment of extra compensation of the chair of the board of county commission or board of public instruction. Also, the legislation was not applicable where in conflict with relevant local laws in Franklin, Gadsden, Liberty, and Wakulla counties.

Chapter 63-560, Laws of Florida, increased, decreased, or left unchanged from amounts set in Chapter 61-461, Laws of Florida, the compensation for members of the board of county commissioners, members of the board of public instruction, clerk of circuit court, county judge, sheriff, superintendent of public instruction, supervisor of registration, tax assessor, and tax collector. The legislation also provided for the compensation of county officials whose compensation for official duties was paid in whole or part by fees or commissions. The amount of such compensation was not to exceed $7,500, unless otherwise provided in law.

Chapter 65-356, Laws of Florida, increased, decreased, or left unchanged from amounts set in Chapter 63-560, Laws of Florida, the compensation for members of the board of county commissioners, members of the board of public instruction, clerk of circuit court, county judge, sheriff, superintendent of public instruction, supervisor of registration, tax assessor, and tax collector.

Chapter 67-576, Laws of Florida, increased, decreased, or left unchanged from amounts set in Chapters 65-356 and 67-543, Laws of Florida, the compensation for members of the board of county commissioners, members of the board of public instruction, clerk of circuit court, county judge, sheriff, superintendent of public instruction, supervisor of elections, tax assessor, and tax collector.

Chapter 67-594, Laws of Florida, increased from amount set in Chapter 67-576, Laws of Florida, the compensation for Gadsden County's tax assessor.

Article II, section 5(c) of the Florida Constitution, as revised in 1968, provided that the powers, duties, compensation, and method of payment of state and county officers shall be fixed by law.

Chapter 69-211, Laws of Florida, declared legislative intent to preserve statewide uniformity of county officials' salaries and prohibited special laws or general laws of local application pertaining to compensation of members of the board of county commissioners, clerk of circuit court, sheriff, superintendent of schools, supervisor of elections, tax assessor, and tax collector.

Chapter 69-216, Laws of Florida, deleted references to sections of the 1885 constitution that were replaced by new sections in the 1968 revision.

Chapter 69-346, Laws of Florida, provided for the uniform salaries of members of the board of county commissioners, members of the district school board, clerk of circuit court, sheriff, superintendent of schools, supervisor of elections, tax assessor, and tax collector based upon the classification of counties according to population. The legislation provided that all other income of county officials from fees or services rendered to state, county, or municipal governments was income of the office. In addition, the legislation provided for the recording and reporting of fees collected as well as the disposition of excess fees. The legislation also repealed previously enacted local or special laws or general laws of local application related to the compensation of county officials and repealed chapter provisions providing for the compensation of county judge.

Chapter 69-403, Laws of Florida, provided for the transfer of the salary provisions of county judge from Chapter 145 to Chapter 44 and repealed obsolete provisions in Chapter 145.

Chapter 70-395, Laws of Florida, provided a salary increase to sheriff in existing bracketed population counties and created three new population brackets with corresponding salaries for counties having a population in excess of 300,000 persons.

Chapter 70-419, Laws of Florida, provided that the salary of a board or commission member could not be reduced until the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1973.

Chapter 70-429, Laws of Florida, provided a salary increase to supervisors of elections in existing bracketed population counties.
