What is Local Economic Development?

The purpose of local economic development is to build up the economic capacity of a local area to improve its economic future and the quality of life for all. It is a process by which public, business, and nongovernmental sector partners work collectively to create better conditions for economic growth and employment generation.

In the broadest sense, economic development policies encompass three major areas:

- Government efforts to meet broad economic objectives such as high employment, price stability, and sustainable growth through monetary and fiscal policies, regulation of financial institutions and access to credit, and favorable trade and tax policies.

- Programs that provide infrastructure and services such as highways, parks, affordable housing, crime prevention, and K-12 education.

- Job creation and retention through specific efforts such as downtown and neighborhood development, small business development, workforce development, business retention and expansion.
Numerous Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Economic Development Efforts

General-purpose revenue sources whose uses are entirely or, for the most part, at local discretion.
- County general fund revenues totaled $12.2 billion in LFY 2008-09.
- Municipal general fund revenues totaled $9.4 billion in LFY 2008-09.

Revenue sources whose proceeds can be used to fund local infrastructure projects generally.
- Examples include federal and state assistance programs, impact fees, local discretionary sales surtaxes, local option fuel taxes, and special assessments.

Revenue sources whose proceeds can be used to fund local economic development efforts specifically.
- Examples include convention development taxes, federal and state assistance programs, local business taxes, and tourist development taxes.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Infrastructure (Based on Home Rule Authority)

Impact Fees...charges imposed by local governments against new development to provide for capital facilities’ costs made necessary by population growth.

- Reported Impact Fee Revenue Collections:
  - County governments: $207 million in LFY 2008-09 (n=40).
  - Municipal governments: $139 million in LFY 2008-09 (n=181).
  - School districts: $87 million in SFY 2010-11 (n=28).
- The majority of county and municipal government-imposed impact fees generate revenues to fund physical environment and transportation infrastructure.
- Revenue collections have decreased significantly in recent years due to the housing bust and local government efforts to freeze, reduce, or repeal impact fees in light of economic conditions.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Infrastructure (Based on Home Rule Authority)

Special Assessments...charges imposed by local governments against property to fund the construction and maintenance of capital facilities and certain services.

- Reported Special Assessment Revenue Collections:
  - County governments: $504 million in LFY 2008-09 (n=52).

- The majority of county and municipal government-imposed special assessments generate revenues to fund local service provision rather than capital facilities.

- Although still trending positive, revenue collections have slowed in recent years.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Infrastructure (Based on Statutory Authority)

Local Discretionary Sales Surtaxes...eight separate levies [s. 212.055, F.S.] that can be imposed by county governments or school districts to fund a variety of local infrastructure, public health, or public safety needs depending on the particular levy. Total tax rate varies by county from 1.5% to 3.5%.

- In CY 2012, 48 county governments will levy at least one surtax and only Madison County and 15 school districts will exercise all possible taxing authority.

- Total Realized and Unrealized Surtax Revenues in LFY 2011-12:
  - Realized: county governments, $1.3 billion; school districts, $346 million.
  - Unrealized: county governments, $6.2 billion; school districts, $1.0 billion.

- Proceeds from the following surtaxes generate revenues to fund physical environment and transportation infrastructure: 1) Charter County and Regional Transportation System Surtax, Local Government Infrastructure Surtax, Small County Surtax, and School Capital Outlay Surtax.

- As the sole method of authorization for several different surtaxes, voter approval in a countywide referendum may hamper increased utilization of this funding source.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Infrastructure (Based on Statutory Authority)

Local Option Fuel Taxes...three separate levies, totaling a maximum of 12 cents per gallon on motor fuel (i.e., gasoline), that can be imposed by county governments to fund transportation infrastructure needs.

- Ninth-Cent Fuel Tax [s. 336.021, F.S.]
  - Optional rate of 1 cent per gallon on motor fuel. Rate on diesel fuel equalized statewide at 1 cent per gallon.

- 1 to 6 Cents Fuel Tax [s. 336.025, F.S.]
  - Optional rate of up to 6 cents per gallon on motor fuel. Rate on diesel fuel equalized statewide at 6 cents per gallon.
  - In CY 2012, 66 counties @ 6 cents; Franklin County @ 5 cents. In LFY 2011-12, $540 million realized; $55,447 unrealized by Franklin County.

- 1 to 5 Cents Fuel Tax [s. 336.025, F.S.]
  - Optional rate of up to 5 cents per gallon on motor fuel. No tax on diesel fuel.
  - In CY 2012, 2 counties @ 2 cents; 2 counties @ 3 cents; and 20 counties @ 5 cents. In LFY 2011-12, $174 million realized; $207 million unrealized.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Economic Development Efforts

Convention Development Taxes...three county governments (Duval, Miami-Dade, and Volusia) are eligible to levy a tax on transient rental transactions. The maximum tax rates are either 2 or 3 percent depending on the particular levy.

- Total Realized and Unrealized Tax Revenues in LFY 2011-12:
  - Consolidated County Tax @ 2% [s. 212.0305(4)(a), F.S.]
    - Duval County: $4.7 million realized. No unrealized revenue.
  - Charter County Tax @ 3% [s. 212.0305(4)(a), F.S.]
    - Miami-Dade County: $39 million realized. No unrealized revenue.
  - Special District, Special, and Subcounty Tax @ 3% [s. 212.0305(4)(c)-(e), F.S.]
    - Volusia County: $7.0 million realized. No unrealized revenue.

- Generally, the tax proceeds may be used for capital construction of convention centers and other tourist-related facilities as well as tourism promotion. However, the authorized uses vary by levy.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Economic Development Efforts

Local Business Tax...county and municipal governments are eligible to levy the tax, authorized in Ch. 205, F.S., for the privilege of engaging in or managing any business, profession, or occupation within their respective jurisdictions.

- Reported Local Business Tax Collections:
  - County governments: $32 million in LFY 2008-09 (n=35)
  - Municipal governments: $120 million in LFY 2008-09 (n=269)
- Although the tax proceeds are considered general revenue for the county or municipality, county business tax revenues may be used for overseeing and implementing a comprehensive economic development strategy. [s. 205.033(7), F.S.]
- Several bills (SB 760, HB 1063, and HB 4025) have been filed for the 2012 legislative session, which would repeal the local business tax effective July 1, 2012.
Revenue Sources Available to Fund Local Economic Development Efforts

Tourist Development Taxes...eligible county governments may be able to impose up to five separate taxes on transient rental transactions. Total tax rate varies by county from 1% to 6%.

A summary of the results is on EDR’s website: (http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/local-government/reports/index.cfm#incentives-report).

Florida’s Special Districts

There are 1,619 active special districts in Florida funded primarily from charges for services and ad valorem taxes. They may be categorized as follows:

- Districts that help attract businesses and retail establishments by redeveloping, improving, and maintaining commercial areas and facilities;
- Districts that allow new residential, commercial, and industrial developments to occur through financing, building, and maintenance;
- Districts that provide major infrastructure and facilities serving large areas, such as airports, roads, bridges, expressways, sea ports, waterways, and utility systems;
- Districts that protect life and property by providing fire control and rescue, flood control, and emergency medical services; and
- Districts that help make Florida a desirable place to live, work, and visit by providing civic, health, educational, conservation, parks, sports, and recreational facilities.
Community/Economic Development

Of active special districts, the largest categories addressing community/economic development (first two categories from previous page) are:

- Community redevelopment agency (CRA) districts – 205; and
- Community development districts (CDD) – 574.

In addition, there are other categories of special districts that focus primarily on community/economic development. Some examples are:

- Industrial development districts – 24;
- Downtown development/improvement districts – 14;
- Municipal-type services and improvements – 12;
- Economic development districts - 10;
- Infrastructure development districts – 10;
- Capital improvement districts - 4; and

CRA’s/Funding

Community Redevelopment Agencies (Part III, Ch. 163, F.S.), are mechanisms that may be formed by cities and counties for eliminating, reducing, or preventing areas of slum and blight or crime, or for the provision of affordable housing to residents of low or moderate income.

Slum and blighted areas are defined in law to generally include a multitude of conditions that are more severe than in other areas of the respective city or county.

CRA activities are generally funded from increments of annual ad valorem taxes that result from growth in property values occurring following establishment of the community redevelopment area.

The purpose of Community Development Districts (Ch. 190, F.S.) is to provide a mechanism for independently managing and financing basic community development services relating to the delivery of capital infrastructure necessary to serve projected growth without overburdening other governments (and their taxpayers).

CDD’s can range in size from “compact, urban mixed use districts” located within a municipality and community redevelopment area (maximum of 75 acres) to those of less than 1,000 acres (established by a city or county ordinance) to districts of 1,000 acres or more (established by the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission). Examples of a couple of fairly well known CDD’s are: the Villages in Lake and Sumter Counties and Celebration in Osceola County.

CDD’s have the power to levy: ad valorem taxes up to 3 mils for operating purposes (and additional 2 mils if exercising powers specified in s. 190.012(2), F.S.); total benefit special assessments (for bonds and related expenses); and maintenance special assessments.

During the 2010 Legislative Session, the Florida Legislature approved legislation that amended the definition of real property by excluding “condominiums”. From FY 06/07 through FY 09/10, 88% of the building materials refunds went to condominiums.
The Qualified Target Industry Tax Refund incentive is available for companies that create high wage jobs in targeted high value-added industries. This incentive includes refunds on corporate income, sales, ad valorem, intangible personal property, insurance premium, and certain other taxes from an appropriated amount set aside for this purpose. Pre-approved applicants who create jobs in Florida receive “tax refunds” of $3,000 per net new Florida full-time equivalent job created; $6,000 in an Enterprise Zone or Rural Community (county).

- For businesses paying 150 percent of the average annual wage, add $1,000 per job;
- For businesses paying 200 percent of the average annual salary, add $2,000 per job;
- For businesses falling within a designated high impact sector or increasing exports of its goods through a seaport or airport in the state by at least 10 percent in value or tonnage in each year of receiving a QTI refund, add $2,000 per job;
- For projects locating in a designated Brownfield area (Brownfield Bonus), add $2,500 per job.

The local community where the company locates contributes 20 percent of the total tax refund. There is a cap of $5 million per single qualified applicant in all years, and no more than 25 percent of the total refund approved may be taken in any single fiscal year. New or expanding businesses in selected targeted industries or corporate headquarters are eligible.
