INTRODUCTION

Economic, demographic and revenue forecasts are essential for a variety of governmental planning and budgeting functions. For example, the Governor's budget recommendations and the Legislative appropriations process require a wide range of multiple year forecasts. Economic and demographic forecasts are also needed to support estimates of revenues and demands for state services. Revenue estimates are needed to develop a state financial plan to ensure that the State meets the constitutional requirement of a balanced budget. Caseload estimates are needed to support financial models for education, criminal justice, transportation, and social services programs.

State governments, all of which have similar information needs, have developed many different forecasting procedures to provide these estimates. Some states rely heavily on the governor's office or the state legislature to provide these forecasts. Other states have delegated this responsibility to an elected official, a constitutional officer, a state university or to a private forecasting service.

In Florida, the professional staffs of the Legislature, the Governor's Office and, in the case of the Criminal Justice Estimating Conference, the Supreme Court, meet in regularly scheduled Consensus Estimating Conferences to provide the forecasts needed to support the planning and budgeting process. These conferences are held at least three times a year: in the fall to provide forecasts for the Governor's budget recommendations, in the spring to provide final estimates for the Legislature's appropriation process, and in early summer to adjust the spring forecast for legislative changes.

Consensus forecasting began on an official basis in 1970 and was limited to forecasts of the general revenue fund. The use of consensus forecasting to support the planning and budgeting processes has expanded in recent years and there are now twelve estimating conferences:

1. Economic Estimating Conference
 - a. National Economic
 - b. Florida Economic
2. Demographic Estimating Conference
3. Revenue Estimating Conference
 - a. Gross Receipts
 - b. Lottery
 - c. Public Education Capital Outlay (PECO)
 - d. Ad Valorem
 - e. Transportation Revenue
 - f. Tobacco Settlement
 - g. General Revenue
4. Education Estimating Conference
 - a. Public School Enrollment
 - b. Community Colleges
 - c. State University System
 - d. Student Financial Aid
5. Criminal Justice Estimating Conference
6. Social Services Estimating Conference
 - a. TANF/WAGES
 - b. Medicaid Caseloads
 - c. Medicaid Expenditures
 - d. Kid Care
7. Child Welfare System Estimating Conference
8. Juvenile Justice Estimating Conference
9. Workforce Estimating Conference
10. School Readiness Program Estimating Conference
11. Self-Insurance Estimating Conference

- a. State Employees Health Insurance
 - b. Risk Management Trust Fund
12. Florida Retirement System Actuarial Assumptions Estimating Conference

General authority for the consensus forecasts is provided in the Florida Statutes, sections 216.133 to 216.137, which designate the conference principals and participants. Conference principals can call conferences and are generally responsible for developing and choosing the forecasts. Participants are often requested to provide alternative forecasts and to generate supporting information.

Consensus forecasting requires the professional staffs from the Legislative, Executive and Judicial branches to develop mutually agreeable forecasts. The procedure is truly a consensus forecast with each principal having a veto. All parties must agree on the forecasts before they are finalized. Once agreed to, all state agencies are bound to use the results of the conference in all official actions.

All conferences are open public meetings. Conference forecasts are made under the assumption of current law and current administrative practices. Provisions are made for special conferences when estimates are needed for the impact of proposed changes in current law or current administrative practice.

Results of the estimating conferences are monitored on a monthly or quarterly basis. Errors in the estimating process are publicly reported. If, at any time in the monitoring process a principal feels that a forecast is no longer valid, that principal may call an estimating conference and propose changes to the official forecast.

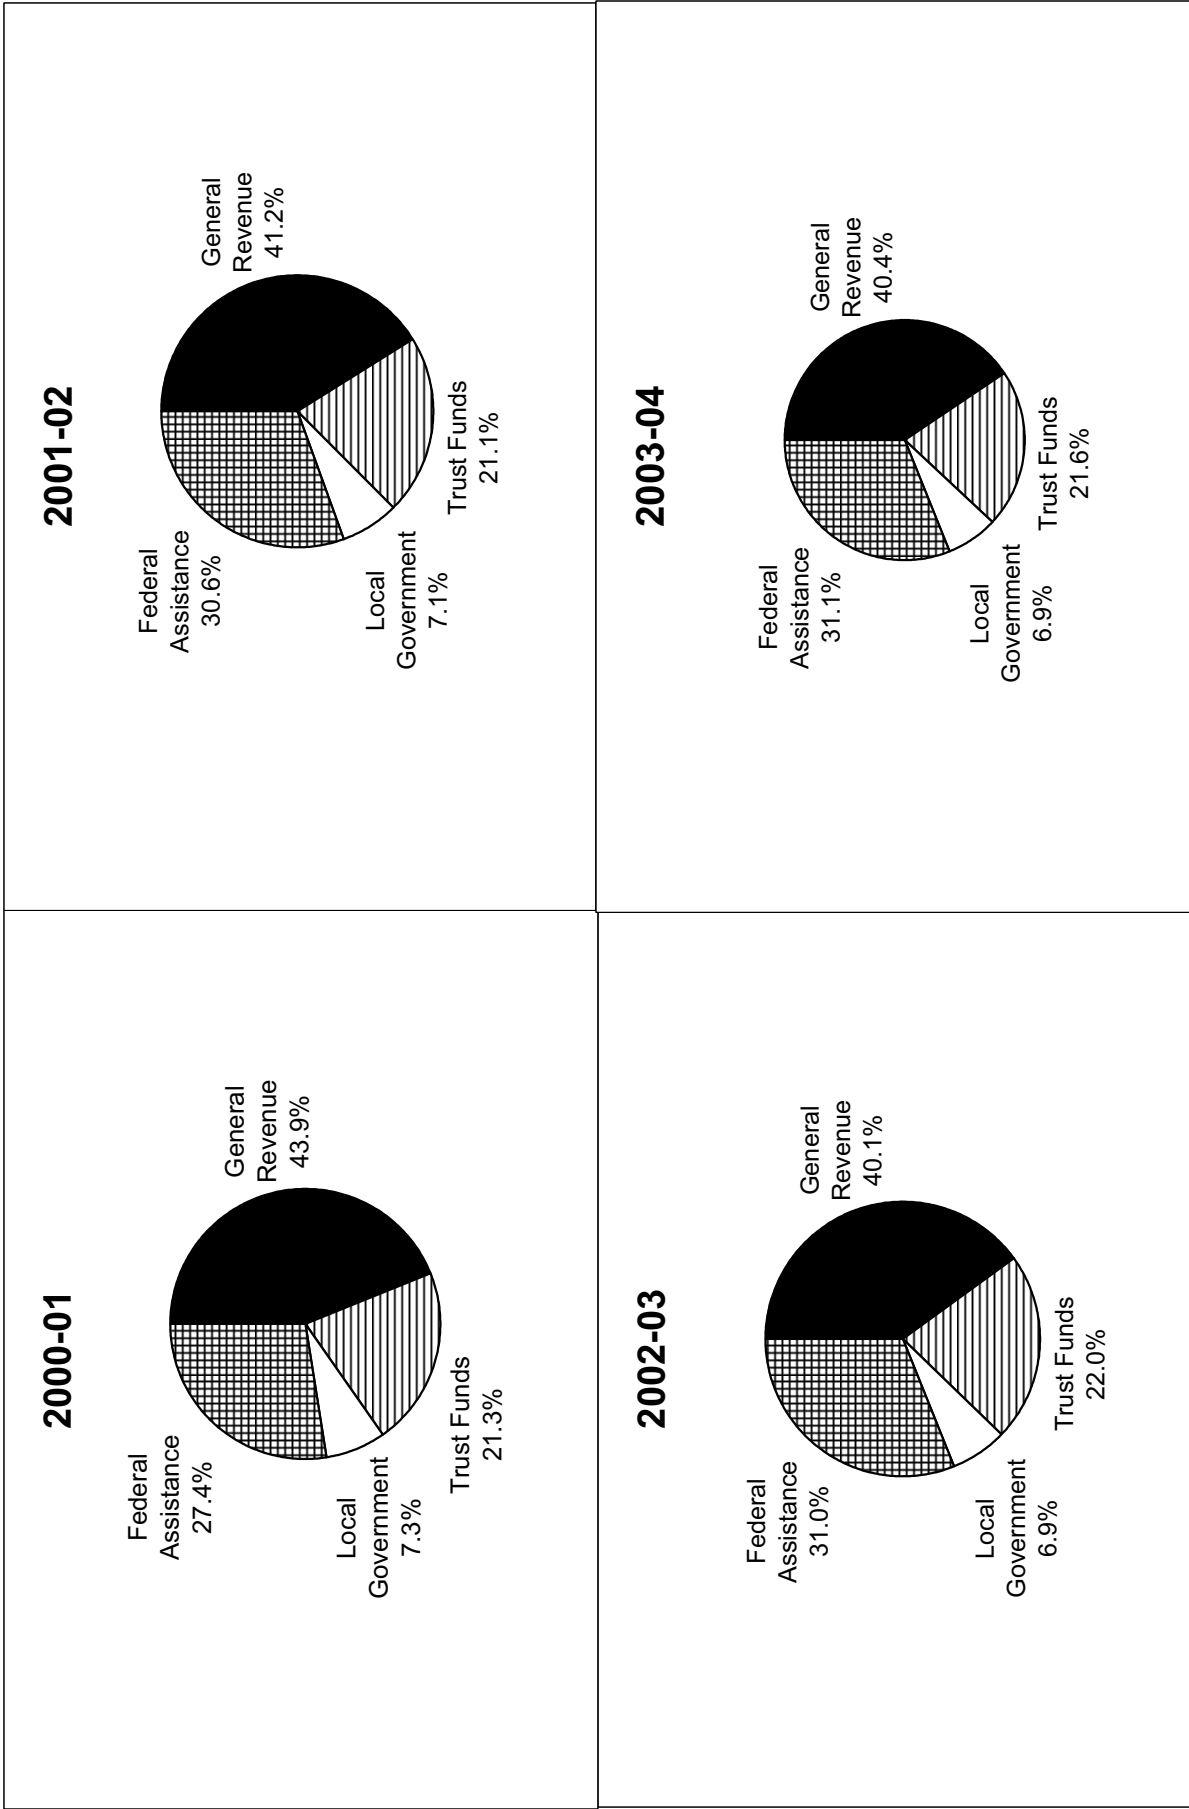

This publication documents the long term revenue forecast beginning with the Fall of 2004, and reflects the results of the Fall conferences. This document, as well as other information can be found on our website at "www.state.fl.us/edr".

APPENDIX E

FOOTNOTES

1. History for Nominal Personal Income, Population Index and Implicit Price Deflator has been updated in 2002.
2. The trust fund portion of each tax source may include an obligatory General Revenue service charge, thereby reducing the dollars available for appropriations out of the Trust Fund.
3. Other general revenue, trust and total have been updated in 2002. Other GR on the history table includes miscellaneous revenues plus the adjustment to motor vehicle and mobile home licenses. Other GR on the direct revenue table does not include miscellaneous revenues but also includes the adjustment to motor vehicle and mobile home licenses.
4. Includes distributions to the Hurricane Andrew Trust Fund of $228.8 Million (FY 92-93), $190.0 Million (FY 93-94), and $159.0 Million (FY 94-95), and Solid Waste Management Trust Fund (FY 88-89 to present), and Sports Facilities Distributions (FY 92-93 to present).
5. Includes the Half-cent Sales Tax (FY 82-83 to present) and the Emergency Distribution (FY 94-95 to present) to local governments.
6. Includes Solid Waste Management Trust Fund distribution and the Sports Facilities distribution.
7. Includes Sales Tax revenue shared with local government through the half-cent sales tax and the emergency distribution.
8. Beginning in 2000-01, local shared revenue formerly distributed to counties from intangibles taxes and parimutuel fees, licenses and taxes will be paid from the sales and use tax; local revenue formerly distributed to municipalities from tobacco taxes will also be paid from the sales and use tax.
9. The Agency for Workforce Innovation was created in FY 2000-01.
10. Due to programming changes in FY 1999-00 by the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles, this trust fund went from having a large balance at the end of the year to a much smaller balance. This was due to transfers out of the trust fund being done in a timelier manner.
11. Beginning in FY 2001-02 Sales and Gross Receipts taxes include their portion of Communication Services Tax (CST). For further explanation of CST see Appendix F.
12. Beginning in FY 2001-02 Other Local includes Communication Services Tax (CST) Direct-to-Home Satellite Service. For further explanation of CST see Appendix F.
13. The Department of Insurance and the Department of Banking Finance merged into the Department of Financial Services in FY 2003-04.
14. The Corporations Trust Fund was abolished in 2003.
15. Educational Fees and Licenses represent fees (largely tuition) collected by state universities. Beginning in FY 2002-03, universities' fiscal affairs were devolved (that is, university revenues and expenditures no longer appear on the State's books). In FY 2003-04, only six universities (UF, FSU, FAMU, UWF, UNF and FAU) remained on the State's books. In FY 2004-05, no universities will be on the State's books. Consequently, there is no direct revenue to report in this category.

16. The Intangibles Tax Clearing Trust Fund was abolished in FY 2004-05. Revenue from both types of Intangibles Tax is now directly deposited to General Revenue. Intangible BD represents the tax on stocks, bonds, notes, governmental leaseholds, and interests in limited partnerships registered with the SEC; the tax is assessed annually. Intangible C represents obligations secured by liens on Florida realty; the tax is assessed only at recordation.
17. Other Grants in FY 2001-02: $449.7 million of this amount is a non-recurring U.S. Department of Labor Reed Act distribution received in March 2002.

APPENDIX F

COMMUNICATIONS SERVICES TAX

SUMMARY

The Communications Services Tax (CST) is imposed on retail sales of communications services which originate and terminate in Florida, or originate or terminate in Florida and are billed to a Florida address. Communications services include all forms of telecommunications previously taxed by the gross receipts tax plus cable television and direct-to-home satellite service. The law specifically states that the tax also applies to communications services provided through any "other medium or method now in existence or hereafter devised." The tax imposed by chapter 203 on communications services is also administered under chapter 202.

HISTORY

Prior to 2001, nonresidential telecommunication services were subject to sales and use tax under chapter 212 at the rate of 7 percent. Cable television and direct satellite television were subject to sales and use tax at a rate of 6 percent. Telecommunication services were also subject to gross receipts tax under chapter 203. Chapter 2000 - 260, L.O.F., created the Communications Services Tax Simplification Law which provided for a new statewide tax on communications services to replace the sales and use tax on telecommunications services, cable and direct satellite television. It also provided for a different administration of the gross receipts tax on telecommunication services and extended that tax to cable and direct satellite television. The Communications Services Tax Simplification Law, which applied to bills issued by communications services providers on or after October 1, 2001, also provided for local communications services taxes to be administered by the Department of Revenue. Chapter 2001-140, L.O.F., established the revenue-neutral tax rates for the statewide and local communication services taxes.
