FINANCIAL INFORMATION STATEMENT

REFERENDA REQUIRED FOR ADOPTION AND AMENDMENT OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMPREHENSIVE LAND USE PLANS, #05-18

Florida law requires each local government to adopt a comprehensive plan. Comprehensive plans may be amended at least twice per year, as provided by law. The proposed constitutional amendment requires local governments to conduct a vote, by referendum, before adopting any new comprehensive plan or amendments to the comprehensive plan. The vote would be conducted after preparation of the plan or amendment by the local planning agency and consideration by the governing body.

Based on information provided through public workshops and collected through staff research, the Financial Impact Estimating Conference determined that local governments which adopt plans or propose comprehensive plan amendments will incur additional costs related to the referendum requirement. Nevertheless, the amendment's impact on local government expenditures cannot be estimated precisely. The financial impact statement is developed from the following considerations:

- Presenting additional issues to the voters entails increased costs. Those costs exist regardless of the method by which local governments choose to conduct the vote special or general election, whether by mail ballot or at the polls. Given the large volume of amendments adopted between 2001 and 2005 (an average of 7,878 amendments and 1,062 packages per year) and the number of new incorporations (nine new incorporations since April, 2000), it is highly improbable that special elections can be avoided.
- To this point, the survey responses from local government planners and county supervisors indicate the majority of local governments anticipate the volume of proposed plan amendments would remain the same. Therefore, any fiscal impact related to increased or decreased volume of amendments would be insignificant. Further, while fewer proposed amendments may be adopted, the costs of the referenda to get to this outcome still exist.
- The proposed constitutional amendment does not specify how local governments would present amendments on the ballot, or how often referenda will occur. At a minimum, general election costs will be increased by additional expenditures for printing ballots, and noticing and advertising the ballot information. Costs to conduct a special election are even greater.
- Based on past experience, the minimum cost per special election for an average-sized county ranges from $143,300 to $287,700; for an average-sized city from $10,500 to $22,000. Assuming every Florida voter is impacted by a single special election, costs would range between $10 million and $20 million. If the least-cost method (mail ballot) is selected, and assuming special elections affect just 25% of the voters, the cost would likely be in excess of $2.4 million.
- The impact on state government expenditures will be insignificant.
- State and local revenue sources will not be increased or decreased directly.

FINANCIAL IMPACT STATEMENT

The amendment's impact on local government expenditures cannot be estimated precisely. Local governments will incur additional costs due to the requirement to conduct referenda in order to adopt comprehensive plans or amendments thereto. The amount of such costs depends upon the frequency, timing and method of the referenda, and includes the costs of ballot preparation, election administration, and associated expenses. The impact on state government expenditures will be insignificant.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. Proposed Amendment

Ballot Title:

Referenda Required for Adoption and Amendment of Local Government Comprehensive Land Use Plans

Ballot Summary:

Establishes that before a local government may adopt a new comprehensive land use plan, or amend a comprehensive land use plan, the proposed plan or amendment shall be subject to vote of the electors of the local government by referendum, following preparation by the local planning agency, consideration by the governing body and notice. Provides definitions.

Full Text of Amendment:

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF FLORIDA THAT:

Article II, Section 7. Natural resources and scenic beauty of the Florida Constitution is amended to add the following subsection:

Public participation in local government comprehensive land use planning benefits the conservation and protection of Florida's natural resources and scenic beauty, and the long-term quality of life of Floridians. Therefore, before a local government may adopt a new comprehensive land use plan, or amend a comprehensive land use plan, such proposed plan or plan amendment shall be subject to vote of the electors of the local government by referendum, following preparation by the local planning agency, consideration by the governing body as provided by general law, and notice thereof in a local newspaper of general circulation. Notice and referendum will be as provided by general law. This amendment shall become effective immediately upon approval by the electors of Florida.

For purposes of this subsection:

- 1. "Local government" means a county or municipality.
- 2. "Local government comprehensive land use plan" means a plan to guide and control future land development in an area under the jurisdiction of a local government.
- 3. "Local planning agency" means the agency of a local government that is responsible for the preparation of a comprehensive land use plan and plan amendments after public notice and hearings and for making recommendations to the governing body of the local government regarding the adoption or amendment of a comprehensive land use plan.
- 4. "Governing body" means the board of county commissioners of a county, the commission or council of a municipality, or the chief elected governing body of a county or municipality, however designated.

B. Effect of Proposed Amendment

Currently, local government comprehensive plans and plan amendments are approved by local elected officials representing the citizens of their respective county or municipality, after review by the Department of Community Affairs (DCA). This proposed amendment would require the comprehensive plans and any subsequent amendments to the plan to be approved by the citizens through an election prior to adoption.

Background

In 1985, the Florida Legislature passed the Local Government Comprehensive Planning and Land Development Regulation Act (Chapter 163, Part II, Florida Statutes), commonly referred to as the Growth Management Act. This act requires all local governments to adopt comprehensive land use plans and implement those plans through land development regulations and development orders. The Department of Community Affairs (DCA) is designated as the lead oversight agency, responsible for reviewing comprehensive plans and amendments thereto to determine consistency with State law.

Since the enactment of the Growth Management Act, all local governments have adopted a comprehensive plan, except for recently incorporated municipalities. Of note, there have been nine new incorporations since April, 2000. Section 163.3167(4), F.S., provides that a new municipality must adopt a comprehensive plan within three years of incorporation.

The Act requires all local governments to periodically assess the implementation of their plan and submit an Evaluation and Appraisal Report to DCA. According to the Act, local governments may adopt amendments to their comprehensive plan no more than twice per calendar year, with some exceptions. Plan amendments fall into the following categories:

- Small-scale amendments These are land use amendments adopted pursuant to Section 163.3187(1)(c), Florida Statutes. Small-scale amendments are usually 10 acres or less, and are exempt from the twice-per year limitation. DCA is statutorily prohibited from reviewing these amendments for compliance. According to DCA, there have been an average of 755 adopted small scale amendments annually over the last five calendar years.
- Large scale amendments These are land use amendments that are not defined as small scale amendments. DCA reviews these amendments for compliance with state law. Within an established time frame, the Department issues an Objections, Recommendations and Comments (ORC) report that identifies areas of the proposed plan or proposed amendment that are inconsistent with the provisions of Chapter 163, Part II, Florida Statutes. According to DCA, they have received an average of 10,050 adopted amendments annually over the last five calendar years.
- Evaluation and Appraisal Reports (EAR) Every seven years, each local government must submit an EAR to DCA. DCA reviews the report and amendment(s) for compliance with state law. Within an established time frame, the Department issues a sufficiency report that identifies areas of the EAR that are inconsistent with the provisions of Chapter 163, Part II, Florida Statutes. The local government must submit EAR-based amendments to implement the EAR report. The EAR-based amendments must be adopted within 18 months after the report is determined to be sufficient.

The Comprehensive Plan Amendment Process

The local government holds workshops to discuss possible proposed amendments with the public. The local government then advertises and holds a Local Planning Agency hearing to transmit the proposed amendment to the Local Governing Body. The Local Governing Body then advertises a hearing to transmit the proposed amendment to DCA for review. DCA has 60 days from submittal of a complete package to issue its Objections, Recommendation and Comments Report (ORC). The local government has 60 days (for large scale amendments) or 120 days (for Evaluation and Appraisal Report (EAR) based amendments) from the date the ORC is received to adopt the amendment, adopt the amendment with changes, or determine that it will not adopt the amendment. The local government advertises and adopts the amendment, and returns the plan amendment to DCA for compliance review. DCA has 45 days from receipt of the complete package or 20 days (if the package qualifies for expedited review) to review and issue the compliance determination (notice of intent) by publication in the local newspaper of the local government. An affected party has 21 days from the date of publication to challenge the DCA compliance determination pursuant to Chapter 120, F.S. The plan amendment does not become effective until 21 days after publication of the notice (if no challenge is filed) or until DCA issues a final order determining the adopted plan amendment to be in compliance, or the Administration Commission issues a final order determining the adopted amendment to be in compliance in accordance with Section 163.3184(10), F.S.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

Section 100.371, Florida Statutes, requires the Financial Impact Estimating Conference to "...complete an analysis and financial impact statement to be placed on the ballot of the estimated increase or decrease in any revenue or costs to state or local governments resulting from the proposed initiative."

In determining the fiscal impact of the proposed amendment, the Financial Impact Estimating Conference (Conference) held several public workshops in July 2004, August 2004, February 2006, March 2006, July 2007, and October 2008

In addition to testimony and materials provided at the various workshops, the Conference requested and received survey data from city and county officials and supervisors of elections. Survey data from city and county officials and supervisors of elections was received in 2004. The Conference determined that requesting additional data from city and county officials would not provide any new or significantly different information for consideration when analyzing the 2006 constitutional amendment. However, relevant information from the supervisors of elections and the Department of State was updated.

III.

A. FISCAL ANALYSIS

The fiscal impact summary for this proposed amendment is based on the information provided through multiple public workshops; presentations by Florida Hometown Democracy, the Florida League of Cities, the Department of State, and the Department of Community Affairs; surveys and questionnaires from state agencies, the sixty-seven Supervisor of Elections, and city and county planners; independent research by staff; written material presented to the Conference; and discussion among the FIEC principals and other professional staff.

The Conference analyzed the cost data from a variety of sources in an effort to establish a specific dollar amount or at least develop an expected dollar range in which the fiscal impact may lie. The following data was reviewed and evaluated in determining the fiscal impact of this amendment:

Data

| Number of registered voters (as of June 30, 2005) Number of elections (special, general or combinate Number/percentage of referenda held by ballots of Average cost of advertising, public meetings, edu Other costs (legal, printing, equipment, staff, etc.) | tions the polling cation, e | place | | indete indete indete | 501,148 erminate erminate erminate erminate |

Estimated Fiscal Impact of Voting via Mail Ballots

The Supervisors of Elections have indicated that the average cost per voter for mail ballots is approximately $.92, assuming that the voter pays for return postage. If every voter was impacted by a referendum requiring mail ballots, the estimated cost is as follows:

| Registered Voters | Multiplied by | Cost per Mail out | Estimated Cost |
|-------------------|---------------|-------------------|-----------------------|
| 10.501.148 | X | .92 = | $9,661,056 |

This calculation does not include expenditures for advertising, public meetings and education. These costs are indeterminate. It is also noted that the cost of enabling every voter to vote one time by mail ballot is less than the cost of a single statewide special election ($19,396,503). This cost differential also appears to hold at the local level. Therefore, the minimum cost of holding non-election cycle referendums affecting just 25% of the voters in Florida within a two-year period would likely be in excess of $2.4 million.

¹ Data provided by the Department of State, Division of Election's Certification of Florida-registered Voters

² Survey of all 67 counties, provided by the Department of State, Office of Legislative Affairs

³ Data provided by the Legislative Office of Economic and Demographic Research

⁴ Comprehensive Plan Processing Data provided by the Department of Community Affairs

Costs Per Referendum

The amendment requires that the plan or plan amendment "shall be subject to vote of the electors of the local government." Therefore, every amendment to a county's comprehensive plan would be submitted to all registered voters in the county. If held as a special election, the costs for a medium-sized county would likely range from $56,000 to $288,000 per referendum, with the largest county topping out at $2 million.

| County Registration Max: | | | |

Every amendment to a city's comprehensive plan would be submitted to the registered voters in the municipality. If held as a special election, the costs for a medium-sized city would likely range from $2,700 to $21,000 per referendum, with the largest city topping out at $330,000.

The costs per special election calculated above are minimum costs. Neither the mail-out nor physical site election costs include expenditures such as advertising and notification.

Although there would be additional costs associated with plans and amendments considered as part of a general election, those costs cannot be determined. However, they would be less than the costs associated with a special election.

Summary

Based on information provided through public workshops and collected through staff research, the Financial Impact Estimating Conference principals determined that local governments cumulatively will incur additional costs related to the referendum requirement. Nevertheless, the fiscal impact cannot be estimated precisely. The financial impact statement was developed from the information on the previous pages and the following considerations.

- Based on the information above, presenting additional issues to the voters entails increased costs. Those costs exist regardless of the method by which local governments choose to conduct the vote special or general election, whether by mail ballot or at the polls. Given the large volume of amendments adopted between 2001 and 2005 (an average of 7,878 amendments and 1,062 packages per year) and the number of new incorporations (nine new incorporations since April, 2000), it is highly improbable that special elections can be avoided.
- The proposed constitutional amendment does not specify how or if local governments would group amendments on the ballot or the specifics of the process that would be used for approval of each amendment. Survey responses from local government planners and county supervisors vary regarding how amendments might be grouped and presented to the voters. At a minimum, costs will include printing ballots, and such costs will vary depending on the election method selected. Additionally, costs will likely include noticing and advertising the ballot information.
- The survey responses indicate the majority of local governments anticipate the volume of proposed plan amendments would remain the same. Therefore, any fiscal impact related to increased or decreased volume of amendments would be insignificant.
- The impact on state government expenditures will be insignificant under current law. While implementation of this amendment will not require statutory changes, some changes may be desirable. In addition, the Department of Community Affairs must amend its procedural rule.
- There are no state or local revenue sources that will be increased or decreased directly as a result of this amendment. Should behavior change such that fewer amendments result in economic development activity, then revenues may be indirectly suppressed. Conversely, if the proportion of approved amendments leads to planned developments that are more sustainable, revenues may be indirectly increased. Moreover, secondary effects on land values and taxable development activity are highly speculative and may lead to both increasing and decreasing revenue impacts over time. None of these impacts can be estimated with any degree of certainty.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

- 1. State and Local Government Revenues: There are no state or local revenue sources that will be increased or decreased directly as a result of this amendment. Should behavior change such that fewer amendments result in economic development activity, then revenues may be indirectly suppressed. Conversely, if the proportion of approved amendments leads to planned developments that are more sustainable, revenues may be indirectly increased. Moreover, secondary effects on land values and taxable development activity are highly speculative and may lead to both increasing and decreasing revenue impacts over time. None of these impacts can be estimated with any degree of certainty.
- 2. State and Local Government Expenditures: The direct impact of this amendment on local government expenditures cannot be estimated precisely. Over each two year election cycle, local governments cumulatively will incur additional costs. Costs will vary depending on the processes employed by cities and counties in obtaining approval for plan amendments. The direct impact on state government expenditures will be insignificant.
