

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
Revenue Estimating Conference for the General Revenue Fund
March 13, 2023

The new forecasts for the national and state economies adopted in February 2023 notably lowered key economic metrics relative to those adopted in July 2022, largely as a result of a significant contraction in the housing market, an upward shift in the level of inflation, and the inclusion of a mild recession. Of note, the risk associated with the national economic forecast continues to be skewed to the downside, with an 80 percent probability that the new forecast will unfold as predicted (55 percent) or fall short of expectations (25 percent). Economic disruption is still evident, with challenges including the drawdown of savings as households began to rely on savings to defend their standard of living, the elevated use of credit, the continued normalization of spending on services and away from taxable goods, and strong inflationary pressures on households. Nonetheless, revenue collections since August have far exceeded expectations and the economic fundamentals, confounding the ability to predict the impact and timing of key turning points.

After coming in $2.95 billion over estimate during the six months since the prior forecast was adopted, the Conference added another $1.31 billion in expected gains to the estimate during the remaining four months of the fiscal year, for a combined increase of $4.27 billion to the overall forecast for FY 2022-23. Approximately $591.7 million (13.9 percent) of the overall increase was related to the recovery and rebuilding activity associated with Hurricane Ian. Overall, the new forecast grows 5.1 percent over the prior year. Assuming a downshift will begin next year, the Conference continued to assume a decline in receipts relative to the current year (-2.1 percent), although the forecast level was increased by $2.78 billion in FY 2023-24 and grows by an increasing amount thereafter. The two-year combined increase for FY 2022-23 and FY 2023-24 adds nearly $7.06 billion to the prior forecast. These changes reflect increases over the previous estimates of 10.2 percent in FY 2022-23 and 6.6 percent in FY 2023-24.

The current economic environment presented significant forecasting challenges which were reflected in the discussion at the conference. By far the largest adjustment in the new forecast relates to Sales Tax, which has benefitted from elevated spending on goods and the initial effects of inflation. The anticipated gain to General Revenue is $3.66 billion in FY 2022-23 and $2.73 billion in FY 2023-24, with all six sales tax categories seeing increases in both years. The Conference noted future risks to sales tax collections include consumers returning to a typical purchasing mix of goods and services and managing personal budget constraints in a period of persistent inflation.

Apart from Sales Tax, the greatest gain to the forecast comes from the Corporate Income Tax. The Conference increased the forecast by $656.6 million in FY 2022-23 and by $583.7 million in FY 2023-24.

The greatest loss to the forecast came from the two revenue sources most closely aligned with the housing market: the Documentary Stamp Tax and the Intangibles Tax. Combined, their estimates were lowered by $482.1 million in FY 2022-23 and $580.5 million in FY 2023-24.

Several of the revisions to the forecast (Tobacco Taxes, Article V Fees & Transfers, and Highway Safety Licenses & Fees) are the results of earlier conferences. Additional information regarding the estimates for sources adopted at prior conferences can be found on the Legislative Office of Economic and Demographic Research's website: <http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/conferences/index.cfm>.

Special Impact Conference on Hurricane Ian
Revenue Estimating Conference: Sales Tax
March 7, 2023

The Revenue Estimating Conference met on March 7 2023, as a Special Impact Conference on Hurricane Ian to adopt adjustments to the baseline forecast for sales tax collections. After considering claims data from the Office of Insurance Regulation, updates from the National Flood Insurance Program, and the results from the Special Impact Conference on Hurricane Ian for ad valorem assessments, the Conference determined that the total Florida damage from Hurricane Ian will reach $53.51 billion. This translates into a theoretical gain of over $1.55 billion in sales tax benefiting the General Revenue Fund; however, the Conference addressed several additional issues that revised the total.

From the conceptual gain, the Conference believes $481.4 million has already been received by the state as a result of rebuilding activity in October, November and December. In addition, the Conference projects that the sales tax exemption for impact-resistant window and doors that is in place until through June 30, 2024, will result in $51.7 million savings to affected taxpayers, but at a loss to the estimate. Taking both adjustments into account, the forward-looking gain to the baseline forecast for sales tax is nearly $1.02 billion. Following the expected restoration schedule adopted for the ad valorem forecast, these dollars would be spread over the period beginning February 2023 and ending December 2027.

These results will be embedded in the General Revenue forecast adopted on March 13, 2023.

Revenue Estimating Conference
Tax Collection Enforcement Diversion Program
August 26, 2022
Executive Summary

The Revenue Estimating Conference convened on August 26, 2022, to adopt a forecast of revenues collected from the Tax Collection Enforcement Diversion program.

Background

The Tax Collection Enforcement Diversion program, which collects revenue owed by persons who have not remitted their sales tax collections as required, began as a pilot program in 2002 and was fully implemented in 2005. The program is operated by participating State Attorney's Offices in cooperation with the Department of Revenue (DOR). To be eligible for the program, taxpayers must meet certain requirements. They must show a pattern of delinquency for several months and the delinquency cannot exceed the misdemeanor level. Eight State Attorney's Offices currently participate in the program: Jacksonville, Clearwater, Miami, Tampa, West Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Fort Myers, and Orlando (Key West participated in the program from FY 2008-09 through FY 2013-14).

Twenty-five percent of all collections from the program are distributed as sales tax collections via 212.20, F.S., and seventy-five percent are deposited monthly into the special reserve account of the Florida Association of Centers for Independent Living. Those funds are to be used for administering the James Patrick Memorial Work Incentive Personal Attendant Services and Employment Assistance Program (JP-PAS) and for contracting with the State Attorneys participating in the tax collection enforcement diversion program. The JP-PAS provides personal care attendants and other support and services to persons with significant and chronic disabilities to enable them to obtain or maintain competitive and integrated employment, including self-employment.

Methodology

The DOR provided actual collections through July 2022 for the Tax Collection Enforcement Diversion program. Collections in FY 2021-22 were 0.8 percent lower than collections in the prior year. The Ninth Circuit, the newest member of the program, began generating collections in March 2019 and is expected to continue participating throughout the forecast period. The August 2022 Conference adopted an estimated growth rate of -4.7 percent for FY 2022-23, resulting in total collections of $4.3 million. Estimated collections remain relatively flat for fiscal years 2023-24 and 2024-25 before resuming growth at rates between 2.7 percent and 3.0 percent thereafter. The forecast is based on estimated growth in sales tax final liability as adopted at the August 2022 General Revenue conference.
